Faculty Orientation Underway--More than 550 faculty members are expected on campus Monday (Sept. 13) for the start of three days of faculty orientation. A special program for the almost 60 new full-time faculty members and their spouses will be Monday afternoon. Tuesday at 8:30 a.m. a faculty breakfast is set for Garvey Commons. President Graham will address the faculty and a faculty meeting will follow. Tickets for the breakfast are $1 and available until noon Monday in Headley Hall 216, Brown Hall 329, Halenbeck Hall 200, Stewart Hall 112 and Whitney House 102.

Explosion Fatally Injures Faculty Member--Robert Duffy of the speech science, pathology and audiology department died August 27 from injuries suffered in a gas explosion six days earlier. He had been at St. Cloud since 1965. The 36-year-old Duffy is survived by a wife and two children.

Insurance Representatives on Campus--Monday (Sept. 13) and Thursday (Sept. 16) from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. representatives of the Ochs Agency will be in the Jerde Room of Atwood Center to discuss the college's group Blue Cross-Blue Shield insurance. Maurie Smith, business office, has asked returning faculty to review their coverage with the representatives and said that new faculty must contact these representatives to enroll for coverage.

College-Community Picnic Tickets Available--Full-time faculty members have until noon Monday (Sept. 13) to pick up tickets for the college-community picnic sponsored by the St. Cloud Area Chamber of Commerce. Full-time faculty members and administrators and their spouses may attend the picnic, which is set for 5-8 p.m. in Wilson Park. Tickets are required and available at the five locations listed above.

Faculty Activity Cards On Sale--Faculty and staff may purchase activity cards for $1 at the post office in Stewart Hall. The tickets are good for admission to all home regular-season sports events as well as numerous college activities. Sports Information Director Bob Peterson said that faculty using the cards for the fall football games should enter by the gate at the south end of the stadium.

Two College Art Shows Opening--About a dozen printed and dyed textiles by Lee Gutteter and some 40 stoneware pieces by Laurie Halberg go on display Monday (Sept. 13) in the Headley Hall art gallery. Both Gutteter and Halberg are in the art department. The gallery is open weekdays from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. An exhibition of "The Drawings of Michelangelo" is scheduled from Sept. 19 through Oct. 3 in Atwood Center.

Concert Series Ticket Sales To Begin--Tickets go on sale Thursday (Sept. 16) for the college's first Classical Concert Series. Featured artists will be pantomimist Marcel Marceau on Oct. 5, the Royal Winnipeg Ballet on Nov. 18, baritone Sherrill Milnes on Feb. 10 and pianist Van Cliburn on April 27. The Atwood Center information desk has season tickets for the series for $8 and individual performance tickets for $3.50. St. Cloud State students pay $5 for a season ticket and $2 per performance. There are only 1,200 reserved seats available, but a season ticket assures a person a reserved seat.

Parking Permits Available--Faculty and staff parking permits are available from Auxiliary Services in Whitney House for those who entered the lottery last spring. Parking lot regulations will not be enforced until Sept. 20, but Sgt. Willard Kuehn said that faculty without proper permits should not park in D lot behind Lawrence Hall or in E visitor's lot behind Stewart Hall.

Two New Programs Get Preliminary OK--Two new graduate programs have gotten preliminary accreditation from the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The specialist degree in information media, the college's first degree beyond a master's, requires 90 graduate credits. A master of arts degree in mathematics requires 45 quarter hours of graduate credit with thesis or 48 quarter hours without thesis. The specialist degree program is designed to prepare learning resources and materials center coordinators and supervisors for school systems and junior colleges. The new math degree program may not be fully implemented until the fall of 1972, but qualified students can enter the program this year.

McDonald On Special Task Force--Brendan McDonald, vice president for administration and planning, has been named to a special task force of State College System students, faculty and administrators. The group will meet Thursday (Sept. 16) in St. Paul. Its objective is to insure greater participation by members of the campus communities in reviewing the newly-adopted rules and policies of the colleges.

.....
New Student Days To Begin--Classes don't begin until Monday, but some 1,800 freshmen and 700 transfer students will begin New Student Days on Thursday (Sept. 16). Thursday will be Parents' Day on campus. A series of seminars on Friday and Saturday will include Ruel Fischmann and Myron Anderson, both in philosophy. Students meet with departments on Friday afternoon and Friday night at 7 p.m. a theatrical presentation by former drug addicts--residents of the New England Marathon House--is scheduled in Stewart Hall Auditorium. A nine-hour Sound Celebration will begin at 11 a.m. Sunday at Selke Field. It will feature well-known country and blues performers.

Faculty Members Pass Two Resolutions--At a meeting attended by more than 400 faculty members Tuesday (Sept. 14), the following resolutions were approved:

"Whereas individual faculty members and the State of Minnesota have entered into contracts in good faith for salaries for services rendered; Whereas the wage-price freeze may prevent the state from paying faculty salaries at rates higher than last year until Nov. 13; RESOLVED that the faculty of St. Cloud State College consider that the State of Minnesota has an obligation to ultimately pay the full salaries agreed upon.

"Whereas the five insurance carriers handling faculty group health insurance have insisted upon and have been granted rate increases approximating 18 per cent effective immediately, despite the wage freeze on faculty salaries and the price freeze on medical costs; RESOLVED that the faculty of St. Cloud State College recommend that the state officers concerned consider transferring the faculty group insurance coverage to other insurance carriers. In particular, the officers concerned should not rule out coverage by out-of-state insurance carriers."

According to Vice President Terry Montgomery, both resolutions will be forwarded to the State College Board through the chancellor's office.

Fall Enrollment Drops 214--Preliminary figures from Paul Ingwell, director of institutional research, indicate a drop in total enrollment to 9,965 this fall. This is a decrease of 214 students, or 2.1 per cent. Graduate enrollment held up the best, with 1,302 students this fall, just one fewer than a year ago. On-campus enrollment is 9,580 compared with 9,475 last fall. Ingwell said there has not yet been a breakdown to pinpoint the origins of the enrollment decrease, but there are early indications of a decrease in the number of new entering freshmen and an increase in the number of transfer students. Of financial significance to the college, Ingwell noted, is the sharp drop in total credit hours this fall. Although enrollment dropped just 214, students are taking 3,955 fewer credit hours this fall than one year ago. The drop was from 137,912 last year to 133,957 this fall.

School Of Business Seminar To Begin--The second year of a School of Business faculty seminar will begin Thursday (Oct. 7) at 7 p.m. in Room 321 of the Business Building. Faculty Association Passes Resolution--The Faculty Association met Monday (Nov. 15) to determine how to respond to recent action by University President Malcolm Moos and Chancellor G. Theodore Mitau. The following resolution passed with little dissent from the 47 people at the meeting when the vote was taken:

"RESOLVED: That the St. Cloud State College faculty expresses its concern over recent public statements of the chancellor in matters vitally affecting faculty welfare. These statements have given little evidence of an appreciation of the position of the faculty and its needs and little disposition to explain or interpret these needs to the public. In view of this, we would like to presume that, in the future, the chancellor will act in favor of the faculty in any ambiguous situations that confront us."

While in Washington, D.C., that same day, Mitau got a memorandum from the acting general counsel of the Pay Board stating that retroactive payments are prohibited unless specifically approved by the board. According to the statement, "Although the Pay Board has announced that it intends to consider the 'teacher problem' as a matter of utmost urgency, until such action is taken by the Pay Board the Minnesota State College system is prohibited from making retroactive payments."

Next regular meeting of the Faculty Association will be Thursday (Nov. 19) at 10 a.m. in Room 100 of Centennial Hall.

Chancellor Issues Statement On Retroactive Pay--Chancellor G. Theodore Mitau issued the following statement Thursday in response to a press report that the Senate approved retroactive pay increases:

"At our request the Chief Deputy Attorney General Wednesday presented to the Office of the District Director of the Internal Revenue Service the matter of our inability to fulfill contractual agreements with faculty and staff in light of wage-price policies and Pay Board rulings. We are advised by the Chief Deputy Attorney General that local response by the IRS is unnecessary at this time in view of pending congressional legislation and the administration's indicated willingness to accept retroactivity.

"We are most pleased that these inequities have been given national recognition and we have begun to make the necessary computations so that when the anticipated action becomes law, our commitments to faculty and staff can be immediately fulfilled.

"The Congressional action would permit payment of salary increases retroactive to September to some 2,835 state college faculty and staff members who are under nine-month contracts approved prior to the wage-price freeze."

Human Rights Commission Plans Power Lab--The St. Cloud Human Rights Commission will sponsor a Power Lab Jan. 21-23 in Shoemaker Hall. Sixty leaders from such areas as labor, business, education, law enforcement and government are expected to participate. Similar sessions, designed to examine the use and abuse of power, have been held at Mankato State, Southwest State and the College of St. Benedict. Faculty members wishing to make a financial contribution to the program, are asked to send a check by Tuesday (Dec. 7) to Edwin Hark, psychology, Education Building A269. The checks should be made out to CHRISTL (Community Human Relations In-Service Training Laboratory).

School Of Business Alumni Organize--Alumni of the School of Business are forming the first subgroup of the college's Alumni Association. An organizational meeting of the new group's board of directors will be Saturday (Dec. 4) at 9 a.m. in the faculty lounge of the Business Building. At that time, alumni, faculty members and a student on the board will finalize a constitution, elect officers and plan the year's activities, according to Ron Swanson, acting chairman of the board. Plans for the group call for seminars, guest speakers and a regular newsletter for graduates.

Redinbaugh Article Published--An article by Larry Redinbaugh, marketing-general business, appears in the December issue of Business and Economic Review. The article is entitled "A Changing Marketing Environment for Life Insurance Companies."

Kaempfer Glass Show Concludes--David Kaempfer, art, had a one-man glass show at Northern Illinois University at DeKalb during November.

Law Enforcement Program Gets Boost--The college has gotten a boost of $1,250 from the federal government so that more law enforcement personnel will be able to attend classes tuition-free. The college now has $5,000 for the year to reimburse for tuition, fees and books any person who goes to St. Cloud while working at least 30 hours a week for a law enforcement agency. Some 20 participants are expected winter quarter. Last fall there were ten in the program.

KVSC Plans Two Special Programs--William Nunn, social science, will discuss aspects of Japanese culture on the first three "This Is Your Time" programs winter quarter on KVSC-TV, the college television station. These programs will be at 6:30 p.m. the Tuesdays of Jan. 4, 11 and 18 on cable channel two. "The Motown Story," a musical and historical review of a prosperous music corporation, will be featured on KVSC-FM's "Montage" show Thursday (Jan. 6) from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m. Schedules of KVSC-FM's winter quarter programs are available in the station's Stewart Hall studio.

Miss St. Cloud Candidates Sought--Vern Schreiner of the St. Cloud Jaycees has asked faculty members to recommend students as possible candidates in the Miss St. Cloud pageant scheduled for March 4. Schreiner said the Jaycees will interview all candidates whose names are submitted by Jan. 16. Charlotte Roddy, a St. Cloud sophomore from Minneapolis, is the current Miss St. Cloud. Schreiner said the winner will get a $500 scholarship and a wardrobe. Candidates do not have to be permanent residents of St. Cloud. Schreiner can be contacted with the names of candidates by calling 251-0900.

Salvatore Recital Thursday--Pianist Ramon Salvatore will present a program of music ranging from early baroque through contemporary Thursday (Jan. 6) at 8 p.m. on Stage I of the Performing Arts Center. Salvatore has been an instructor of piano at St. Cloud since 1969.

Watercolors On Display In Atwood--Seventy-one watercolors from around the world are on display during January in Atwood Center. The exhibition, "UNESCO Watercolor Reproductions," was assembled by UNESCO in Paris. The ABOG-sponsored show includes reproductions of contemporary European works and Oriental masterpieces.

Calendar Of Events Attached--Each copy of the Faculty News should have a January entertainment calendar for the college attached to it. The calendar includes information as up-to-date as was available when the calendar was prepared.

Madsen Article Published--An article by Russell Madsen, business education and office administration, appears in the December issue of Business Education Forum. The article is entitled "Update Instruction with Problem Solving."

Copies of President's Newsletter Available--A limited number of copies of the President's Newsletter that was sent with fall quarter grades are available at the main desk of Atwood Center.

Nelson On Examining Team--Robert Nelson, mathematics, has been named to an examining team of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The accreditation team will visit Northwestern Missouri College this month.

"I have felt the need to have input on certain administrative problems from a broader range of opinion and am creat(ing)...two new councils. The first will be a College Council of the four vice presidents, four representatives chosen by the Faculty Senate and four representatives chosen by the Student Senate. I will meet with this group approximately twice each month winter and spring quarters...to discuss...a variety of problems....

"I am also creating a Council of Directors to meet monthly....(The Directors' Council will consist of the president; the four vice presidents; Andrew Nappi, economic education; William Radovich, assistant vice president for administration and planning; Thomas Braun, auxiliary services; Donald Payne, campus planning; Milton Balgaard, college management officer; Louis Hird, computer services; Paul Ingwell, institutional research; Michael Keable, alumni affairs; Walter Larson, career planning and placement; Ray Rowland, information services; David Munger and Patricia Potter, associate deans of students; Warren Reinecke, Atwood Center; David Sprague, counseling services; Milford Johnson, financial aids; Robert Rafferty, health services; John Rock, housing, and Keith Rauch, admissions and records.)

"I am asking each of the deans to arrange a meeting at least once each quarter with the department chairmen in each school so that I can get the point of view of these very important administrators...responsible for instructional programs....

"...(T)he Constitutional Drafting Committee has been formed and will begin meeting on Jan. 11....Faculty members are Hal Lieberman, Al Lease, Lowell Gillett and Claude DelZoppo; the four students are Sue Heineke, Henry 'Duff' Stokes, Ben Benson and John Falconer; the four presidential appointees are Leone Bauerly, Mary Craik, Bill Sieben and Robert Wick; the civil service representative is Ed Molde....Dr. Wick has agreed to serve...as Chairman Pro Tem....

"Dr. Holmgren has once again requested to be relieved (as academic vice president) and I have acceded to his request. The Vice Presidential Search Committee which was chosen last year has been re-activated....

"New freshman enrollment last fall was down by approximately 400 students, as compared with the fall of 1970....Applications from next year's freshmen, as of this morning (Jan. 6) were down approximately 250 students, or 29 per cent, as compared with this date last year....

"Our official enrollment projection for next year indicates an enrollment drop of only 50 FTE students. This is based on the assumption, however, that our freshman class will be about the same size as it was this fall and that our retention of this year's freshmen will be higher than it has been in recent years....I do not know any way to anticipate...(a) budgetary crisis except to follow a somewhat cautious policy in allocating both funds and personnel positions within the college....I will be consulting with the new College Council on this matter at a very early date....

"There are two major considerations which persuade me that we should give some attention to attracting enough students to keep our enrollment...near its present level.... (1) A sharp reduction in enrollment would almost certainly result in a necessary cutback in the diversity as well as the quantity of our offering...(2) A sharp reduction in enrollment might necessitate the termination of some highly qualified faculty....

"...(T)herefore, we need to take some steps to make certain that our programs are serving the needs of this college generation and that these programs are well publicized....

"In the long run, our attempt to continue to attract students...will be successful, first of all, only as our instructional programs can be adapted to meet the needs of students and the needs of society as they change through the years....And secondly, we will be successful in attracting students only as students are convinced that the college community and particularly its faculty and administration have a deep concern about students as individuals as well as students in the aggregate....

"As the demand for teachers levels off or declines in the next decade, our students may be seeking programs to prepare them for other careers....(I)t is incumbent upon us to adapt our program in order to join them in that march....

"I would like to turn finally to the matter of the way in which we evidence our concern for students as individuals....In the past decade, students have been inundating college campuses in such great numbers that it has been hard to give sufficient attention to the needs of the individual....

"I am convinced that (the) unfortunate results of rapid growth have been inevitable....I am equally convinced that we must seek to remedy the situation in the immediate future....

"...(W)hat needs to be done is a matter of each of us developing a personal concern for our students....We must be as concerned in the classrooms with teaching students as we are with teaching history or accounting or psychology....

"...(S)tudents have many problems on college campuses beyond their academic problems....Many of these problems are dealt with by the Student Affairs division and the personnel of that division carry heavy responsibilities for helping students....

"Today the whole question of what a Student Affairs office should be and do is one of the most widely discussed in higher education....Students everywhere are looking upon the Student Affairs function with a critical eye....

"When I visited St. Cloud...last February as a presidential candidate, Vice President Dale Patton told me that he looked forward to only one more year in that position. After I was appointed, I wrote to Dr. Patton urging him to remain one more year, but agreeing to accept his request for reassignment in 1972-73. He agreed to that arrangement....In early November Dr. Patton officially request(ed) that he be appointed to other duties next year and I have promised to honor his request....

"The restraints of the Pillsbury Bill make filling vice presidencies very difficult...(T)his...together with the questions I have raised about the whole area of Student Affairs (indicates) that this might be a proper time to ask a group of people... to study the whole question of the role and organization of Student Affairs at (SCS). Dr. Patton has agreed to serve as chairman of a study commission which will have both faculty and student representation....

"...(T)he appointment of a study commission in no way reflects any personal dissatisfaction on my part with the work being done by the Student Affairs division at the present time. Furthermore, it should not suggest to anyone that I have...preconceived notions about what the...role or organization of Student Affairs should be.... (T)his approach is not a device to threaten anybody's job in the Student Affairs division....

"...(T)he commission will be asked to look at the Student Affairs needs of this particular college at this particular time and to make recommendations as to how we can organize...to meet them...."

State To Purchase Property For Campus Expansion

Three blocks of residential property in south St. Cloud are being purchased by the State of Minnesota to provide for expansion of the St. Cloud State College campus.

Affected by the land acquisition are two blocks north of the School of Education Building and one block north of Barden Park. Owners and occupants of the three-block area have been notified of the property acquisition in person and by letter, according to Donald Payne, campus planning. They also were invited to an information meeting Jan. 19. Payne said the state will assist in relocating persons affected by the move.

The college's main campus currently consists of 74 acres, on which are erected 27 buildings. Another classroom building is under construction.

Among the six non-metropolitan state colleges, St. Cloud has the most congested campus. With a 1971 fall quarter enrollment of 8,823 full-time, on-campus students, the college has a density rate of 119 students per acre. Density rates for the other five colleges are: Bemidji, 63; Mankato, 32; Moorhead, 49; Southwest, 14; and Winona, 110. St. Cloud's total on-campus enrollment last fall (including part-time students) was 9,509.

Although the college's period of rapid enrollment growth is past, a gradual upward trend is projected during the 1970's. By 1980 the college expects to have about 1,000 more full-time, on-campus students than it does today.

Even if enrollment remained virtually unchanged the existing campus needs to be enlarged to "catch up" with enrollment gains experienced during the past decade, Payne said. The college's enrollment more than tripled during the 1960's.

Early in 1971 westward expansion of the campus was recommended in a long-range study conducted by the Hodne-Stageberg Partners, Inc., Minneapolis architects and planners, for the State College Board. The study pointed out that: (1) Because of the large number of commuting students, the college needs 4,000 parking spaces daily and has fewer than half that number; (2) More than one-sixth of the main campus is occupied by streets and service areas; (3) The main campus cannot expand south, east or north because of natural and man-made barriers. To the south is an industrial area, to the east is the Mississippi River, and to the north is a ravine; (4) The college needs a main entrance to the campus on the west bordering Fifth Avenue near Barden Park.

In February of 1970, in a report to the Legislative Building Commission, the college requested that four blocks of property along the western edge of the campus be acquired during the 1971-73 biennium. Acting on commission recommendations, the 1971 Legislature appropriated funds to purchase three blocks for the college and allocated planning money for an administration building to be erected on part of that property.

In a study completed in 1970, Gerald Gamber, economics, concluded that decreased property tax revenue resulting from the expansion of the college is insignificant, compared to the institution's overall economic contributions to the city of St. Cloud and to the greater St. Cloud area.

Enrollment Total Is Up--The number of undergraduates has dropped, but total enrollment winter quarter is up 322 students from one year ago, according to preliminary figures from Paul Ingwell, institutional research. The total of 9,834 is up 3.3 per cent over last winter's 9,512 students. But most of the increase comes in the areas of off-campus graduate students and special students, those not seeking degrees. Graduate enrollment is up from 939 last winter to 1,344 now, but most of this increase comes through a jump from 215 to 601 off-campus graduate students. The number of special students rose from 724 last winter to 743 now. Of most significance in terms of credit hours is the drop of 183 full-time undergraduates, from 7,938 last winter to 7,755 this quarter. Ingwell, stressing that these are just preliminary figures, noted that the final report for fall quarter shows that there were about 40 more full-time students enrolled than were indicated on the preliminary report.

Carillon Project Nears Completion--A goal established in 1968 during the college's centennial year celebration will be reached next month when carillon music is heard regularly on the campus. Installation has begun on a $49,355 bell instrument, a Schulmerich "Carillon Americana," which was financed entirely by private contributions. The console is being installed in the new recital lounge of Atwood Center and speakers will be placed on the roof of Sherburne Hall. Comprised of five sets of bells, each with 61 notes, plus 25 English bells, the carillon is played from an organ-type console with two keyboards and a pedal clavier. A roll player controlled by a clock enables the instrument to be played automatically. The carillon can be programmed to sound the Westminster melody and the correct hour strike at desired intervals. Similar carillons are in use at many educational institutions, including Gustavus Adolphus College, the University of Minnesota, Butler University, the University of Houston, the University of British Columbia and the Eisenhower Library. Authorized by the St. Cloud State College Foundation, the purchase and installation of the instrument conclude a fund-raising effort ranging from house-to-house solicitation by students for trading stamps to a gift of approximately $43,000 from members of the Allen Atwood, Sr., family. Other contributors include students, faculty, staff, alumni and campus and community organizations. When sufficient funds were available, the Foundation Board acted on President Charles Graham's recommendation after he had consulted with the vice presidents, Mrs. Allen Atwood and representatives of the Student Senate, Faculty Senate, music department and Atwood Center. At the request of the Inaugural Steering Committee, the carillon will be played for the first time at midday Saturday, March 4, immediately after the inauguration of President Graham. A recital of selections demonstrating the versatility of the instrument will be played by John Klein, carillonneur representing Schulmerich Carillons, Inc., of Sellersville, Pa. A dedication ceremony is planned later in the spring.

(The following information was forwarded from the state's Employee Insurance Department through the college's Business Office. More information is available from Maurie Smith, extension 3133.)

"During the last session of the legislature, an act relating to nonprofit hospital medical-surgical, dental and other health service plan corporations was passed into law effective last August 1. One section of this law says: 'No participating provider shall have any right of action against a subscriber for compensation for health services which such provider has rendered, except to the extent that the subscriber's contract does not provide coverage for the services or part of the services rendered.'

"This means that state employees covered under Blue Shield may not be responsible for the entire excess charged by a participating physician, a physician who agrees to submit medical service reports for services rendered to his patients who are Blue Shield subscribers. The state's Blue Shield contract pays surgical benefits based on a $3.75 Relative Value Schedule plus 80% of the Usual and Customary charges if there is an excess not covered by the fee schedule. If the fee schedule (a copy of which each employee should have) does not cover the doctor's charges, Blue Shield will pay 80% of the Usual and Customary charge in excess of what was not paid by the fee schedule. If, after Blue Shield has made its payment, the participating physician bills you for an extremely high balance, the new law may mean that you need not pay any more than the 20% Usual and Customary difference not covered under the State of Minnesota Blue Shield contract.

"It is up to you to help Blue Shield police charges that are too high. All participating physicians have on file with Blue Shield a profile of their Usual and Customary charges for all surgical and anesthetic procedures. As a patient, you will not know what the physician's Usual and Customary profile is. But if you receive an extremely high bill from the physician after Blue Shield has paid benefits, you can and should contact Blue Shield by letter or telephone and explain the circumstances. Send Blue Shield a copy of the bill. They, in turn, will check their records and inform you as to the amount you actually owe. Blue Shield cannot possibly police each doctor's charge. It is up to you to help police high charges and cut medical expenses!

"Before you have any surgical procedures performed, ask your physician if he is a participating physician and inform him that you are covered under the State of Minnesota contract with Blue Shield. If he is not a participating physician, it is his duty to notify you in writing that he does not participate in Blue Shield and may bill you directly for his services. If this is the case, you may be responsible for any excess charges not paid by Blue Shield.

"The law does NOT apply to the State of Minnesota contract with Blue Shield regarding in-hospital, X-ray, lab and maternity benefits because the state contract provides dollar limits on these benefits. The law as it concerns you only applies to surgical and anesthetic procedures as described above."

Satisfied People Sought--Jack Kelly, health, physical education and recreation, is looking for people who don't want to exercise--people who aren't exercising now and don't plan to start. Kelly said he needs as many males between the ages of 25 and 50 as he can find who would be interested in a complete cardiovascular examination yearly at no cost to them. These people are needed to serve as a control group for an open-ended study that Kelly began last fall to try to determine the relationship between long-term exercise and the incidence of cardiovascular disease. Anyone interested in volunteering for the free examinations or wanting more information is asked to contact Kelly at his office (ext. 3105) or through the HPER office (ext. 2156).

Severinsen Concert Sold Out--All tickets have been sold to the March 3 Doc Severinsen concert in Halenbeck Hall, it's been announced. All 6,500 tickets to the 8 p.m. concert are gone and all mail orders now received are being returned.

Concert Choir To Tour--The Concert Choir, under the direction of James Flom, will present ten concerts in six days during a tour through Central Minnesota beginning Saturday (Feb. 26). Proposal For New Department Approved--The Faculty Senate at its Feb. 15 meeting approved a proposal to establish a department of educational administration in the School of Education. At the same meeting Peter Johnson, secondary education, was elected to fill a vacancy on the college's Judicial Committee.

European Tour Scheduled--The geography department has scheduled a 23-day European tour for next summer. The trip begins July 24 and ends August 15 and will include visits to Denmark, England, Holland, Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Italy and France. The tour group will study differences in European regions, cultures and ethnic compositions, according to Lewis Wixon, geography, tour director. More information and applications are available from Wixon (ext. 2263).

Summer Science Institute Set--Despite a Congressional cut in funds, the National Science Foundation will again sponsor a summer science institute at the college this year. The $42,000 NSF grant is about one-third less than that of last year, but will still allow 40 junior and senior high school science teachers to acquire a better understanding of basic science principles. Director of the July 3-August 11 institute is Harold Hopkins, biology. Philip Youngner, physics, will teach a course for teachers needing to develop an understanding of physics. John Coulter, biology, will teach a relatively advanced course in environmental biology with emphasis on modern ecological concepts and techniques of incorporating these ideas into the high school science curriculum.

Biology Seminar To Feature Knutson--Keith Knutson, biology, will be the guest at Monday's (Feb. 28) biology seminar. At noon in Brown Hall 232 he will discuss "Studies on Attached Algae." The session is open to all faculty members.

Judicial Committee Makes Recommendation--The faculty judicial committee has recommended no reversal of a decision made in 1970 not to renew the contract of Alex Stach, a sociology instructor. The five-member committee's unanimous recommendation has been submitted to President Graham, who has final jurisdiction. Before acting on the recommendation, Graham said he will read the transcript of a hearing conducted for Stach March 29-30 by the committee. "Since I was not at the college when the decision was made and did not attend the hearing, I want to familiarize myself with the matter by reading the transcript," Graham commented. Stach had claimed procedural violations in the termination of his employment. He also alleged that reasons given for not renewing his contract were false. Because he was an untenured faculty member, he was required to prove his allegations to the committee. In its recommendation, the committee said "all allegations are either unsupported or insufficiently supported by the evidence." The initial decision not to rehire Stach was made by the chairman of the sociology department, who said the instructor did not have the proper academic qualifications to meet the department's needs. That decision was upheld by the departmental evaluation committee. A faculty ad-hoc committee also reviewed the matter and found the procedures to be in order. Stach then appealed to the judicial committee, which attempted to hold a hearing three times in 1971. Each attempt was disrupted by students supporting Stach. Members of the judicial committee are Harold Lieberman, Owen Hagen, Peter Johnson, John Laakso and Ivan Watkins.

Van Cliburn Concert Thursday--Pianist Van Cliburn will present the fourth program in the college's Classical Concert Series at 8 p.m. Thursday (April 27) in Halenbeck Hall. Tickets for the concert are $2 for St. Cloud State students and $3.50 for anyone else. Advance tickets are available in Atwood Center.

Health Service Conference Here--Health service personnel from all Minnesota colleges and universities have been invited to a state-wide conference Thursday (April 27) in St. Cloud. Some 75 college representatives will meet from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Atwood Center to discuss common concerns regarding college health service operations. Dale Patton and Robert Rafferty are on the conference program.

Special Education Grant Awarded--A $25,200 grant from the U.S. Office of Education has been awarded to the college for teaching assistants in the special education department. Department chairman Stan Knox is now seeking applicants.

"The Frustrated Campus" On Film--The film "The Frustrated Campus," concerned with students and faculty members discussing problems of higher education, will be shown Thursday (April 27) at 3 p.m. in the Penney Room of Atwood Center and at 9 and 11 p.m. in the Newman Center Terrace. There is no charge.

Erickson Receives Citation--George Erickson, learning resources and library and audiovisual education, has received a presidential citation by the president of the Audiovisual Communications Association of Minnesota. The award is given annually to persons who have contributed to the good of the organization and audiovisual education in Minnesota. Erickson has served as vice president in charge of membership during a time when membership expanded to more than 500.

English Teachers To Meet Here--The Minnesota Council of Teachers of English will hold its annual conference at St. Cloud Friday (April 28) and Saturday (April 29). Some 500 teachers of English, speech and reading are expected. Fran Voelker, English, is in charge of local arrangements.

Day of Peace Designated--Thursday (May 11) has been designated as a Day of Peace at the college. The designation was made by President Graham at the request of the Student Senate and with the endorsement of the Faculty Senate. College classes will meet as usual, President Graham said. "The college is not involved in the sponsorship or the endorsement of any of the activities which may be associated with the Day of Peace," he said. "The purpose of the designation is simply to reflect the concern for peace by many of our students and faculty. It in no way endorses any group, party or platform because a state college cannot officially become involved in political issues, even though its students and faculty may be active in many causes." St. Cloud students will join students from St. John's and the College of St. Benedict in Day of Peace activities. Included will be a Walk for Peace from the St. Cloud campus to Lake George, for which the city has issued a parade permit. A Concert for Peace is scheduled for Thursday evening in Stewart Hall Auditorium, according to Day of Peace organizer Terry Sluss.

Publication Wins Award--A viewbook for prospective students, designed by Don Molloy and Cass Mackert, information services, has been selected for a national award by the American College Public Relations Association. Entitled "St. Cloud State College --What's In It For You?" the booklet has been widely disseminated in Minnesota high schools. More than 1,200 publications were submitted for judging. Final selections were made by a panel of six judges.

Author, Author!--Faculty who have authored publications are requested to send their names and addresses to Charles Schroeder, a Mankato State College graduate student who is updating A Selected Bio-Bibliography: Minnesota Authors, first published in 1958 by the Minnesota Statehood Centennial Commission. Faculty who submit their names will be contacted for biographical information. Schroeder's address is: Department of Media and Technology, P.O. Box 19, Mankato State College, Mankato, MN 56001.

"Cabaret" Tickets Available--Tickets are available weekdays from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center ticket office for "Cabaret," the college's spring musical. The award-winning play, which opened on Broadway in 1966, depicts the wild, carefree atmosphere of nightclub life in Berlin shortly before Hitler's rise to power. Jack Allison is directing the production, which will have 8 p.m. performances May 17-20 and 24-27 on Stage I of the Performing Arts Center. Dick Cermele, theatre faculty member, and Flo Goodrich, part-time theatre faculty member, have roles in the production. Musical director is David Ketchum. Jerry Luedders will direct the pit orchestra. Set designer is Richard Baschky and costume designer is Joy Breckenridge. Tickets are free to faculty members with activity cards. Otherwise they cost $2.

Lewis Article Published--Standley Lewis, biology, had an article published recently in the Annals of the Entomological Society of America. The article is entitled "Fossil Caddisfly (Trichoptera) Cases from the Ruby River Basin (Oligocene) of Southwestern Montana." These cases represent the first fossil insect remains of this group recorded from this locality, Lewis said.

Public Service Consortium Begins Work--A newly-organized Central Minnesota Public Service Consortium has begun a regional development project using the resources of St. Cloud State, St. John's and St. Benedict's. The first phase of the three-year experimental program is funded by an $18,000 federal grant. According to Project Director Robert Wick, "The overall plan combines community service, continuing education and inter-institutional cooperation. These three colleges are prepared to explore, plan and launch a cooperative strategy to make more effective use of their facilities." The consortium will assess community and regional needs first, then determine faculty resources and seek ways of organizing college and community resources to help solve community and regional problems, Wick said. The consortium will encourage joint curriculum planning by the colleges, enabling the three institutions to share facilities, faculties and students, Wick added.

Flom Adjudicator For Vocal Contests--In the past few weeks, James Flom, music, has served as an adjudicator for vocal contests in Wadena, Sauk Rapids, Fergus Falls, Maynard, Hancock and Benson. He was choral clinician at festivals in Morris, Atwater, Paynesville, New London, Kerkhoven, Murdock, Raymond, Belgrade, Brooten and Clarissa.

Lock Cars, Get Permits--Sgt. Willard Kuehn, campus security, reports an increasingly large number of tickets being written for campus visitors who fail to get parking permits. Needless time is spent in municipal court because faculty do not get parking permits for their guests, he said. Faculty also should be sure to lock their bikes and car doors because of a number of stolen bikes and parking permits.

Junior Recital Sunday--Donald Hainlen, Suzanne Sietsema and Gary Thorn will present a recital Sunday (May 14) at 3 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center Recital Hall. Miss Sietsema and Thorn are vocalists. Hainlen is a trumpeter.

Policy On "Faculty News" Items Outlined--With the ever-increasing frequency of the Faculty News (there were 11 in April, about one every other day), there is a need to clarify what items are used and why. The sources are, quite simply, (1) information submitted by faculty members and (2) news releases that are sent from the college's News Bureau. As a rule, material is not solicited for the Faculty News. With the exception of holding news of authored works until the publication is printed, most items submitted by faculty members are summarized and used. The news should be submitted in writing to Tom Eveslage, Information Services, Whitney House. If space and time permit, all newsworthy items will be printed.

Walk For Peace Scheduled--Plans are being finalized for a Walk For Peace, still scheduled for 3 p.m. Thursday (May 11) from the front of Atwood Center to Lake George. According to student organizer Terry Sluss, there will be speakers from 10 a.m. to noon in Stewart Hall Auditorium. St. John's University students will march to Lake George from St. John's beginning at 1 p.m., Sluss said. Following Wednesday's march and rally in downtown St. Cloud, Student Senate President Greta Evans issued a statement saying, in part, "It is our intention that any further expressions of concern will continue to be peaceful and non-violent."

Teachers Retirement Information Available To Faculty Members

(Below are summaries of five memos from the Teachers Retirement Association. Copies of the complete memos and additional information are available in the Business Office.)

Retirement Memo #54--Refundments of TRA Deductions: "Application for refundment of a member's accumulated deductions may be made no sooner than 30 days after termination of teaching service. Teaching service is not deemed to have ceased unless any summer school teaching has terminated, if a contract to teach during the next school year has been signed with a TRA member school, or if a member is on an official leave of absence from a TRA member school. A refundment to a member may be made only after the Annual Summary Report from the local school district has been received and processed. Application forms are available from the (Business Office) or the TRA office....Please observe the necessary waiting period of 30 days after ceasing to teach before submitting the application form. Applications received early must be returned to the member and could cause an unnecessary delay in payment."

Retirement Memo #55--Teachers Retiring at the End of the 1971-72 School Year: copies of this memo available in the Business Office.

Retirement Memo #56--New Teacher Program Election: "NEW TEACHERS, including those teachers who have resumed teaching after having accepted a refundment, must make an election on or before June 30 of the school year in which they enter or resume teaching if they wish to change from the Formula program, under which they are automatically covered, to one of the programs listed below: (1) Combined Formula And Variable Annuity Program--4/7 of TRA contributions into Formula and 3/7 of TRA contributions into Variable Annuity, or (2) Total Variable Annuity Program...."

Retirement Memo #57--Aids To Assist Teachers in Electing One of the Programs Available Under the TRA Law: "The Official Election Forms for the election of one of the various retirement programs available under the TRA law have been sent to all schools. Several important items to assist members in making their election are listed below: 1. Members who are retiring this year should make a decision between either the Improved Money Purchase Program or the Formula Program, because the Variable Annuity Program is applicable only for future contributions....Teachers retiring this year should not make a decision until they contact the TRA office for assistance. 2. Please be sure that you have the correct Official Election Form. (A) The white Official Election Forms (EL-2) are for members who rendered teaching service (or were on an approved leave of absence) during the 1968-69 school year and/or for members who have at least 20 years of allowable service as of June 30, 1969; the deadline for this election is June 30, 1972. (B) The pink Official Election Forms (EL-1) are for new members who commence teaching during the 1971-72 school year or for members who resume teaching this year after previously accepting a refund of their accumulated deductions. The deadline for this election is June 30 of the school year during which the member commences teaching...."

Retirement Memo--Leaves of Absence for 1972-73 Fiscal Year: "It is extremely important to notify the TRA Office regarding any authorized leaves of absence that are granted to teachers by your school or college for the 1972-73 fiscal year. Upon receipt of this notification, the TRA Office will contact and advise the member regarding the requirements to be met in order to receive full service credit for the period of the leave of absence. An authorized leave of absence should be specifically identified as to the type of leave and documented as such in the Official Board Minutes; following which an excerpt from the Minutes covering the leave should be submitted to the TRA Office on the leave of absence report form (Form AC-5). If a sabbatical leave is granted, TRA contributions are mandatory and must be remitted currently on any salary paid by the school or college...."
